

What is this energy game about and why is it fun to play?

Race against other players to be the first to complete the transition to clean energy in your region. On your journey you will face many challenges: clouds blocking the sun, power trades with other players, an explosive growth of energy demand, and bidding wars in tense auctions.

What makes the game exciting is that in each turn you decide how far you want to push your luck, you do this while you prepare for the other players' moves, and that ultimately leads to a climactic ending of the game.

Gigawatt – Energy Revolution is created by professionals and enthusiasts who have been working in the energy transition for more than 10 years. This game is created by the same people who made Gigawatt – a Power Play for the Future. In both games you experience the real challenges that come with the transition of the energy system and the game has been referenced in multiple national media, for example De Volkskrant stated: “As a combination of Risk, Monopoly & Catan, Gigawatt not only provides a fun experience, but also insight into the ins and outs of the energy transition.”
